National Championships – Live Results

Judo Australia is pleased to advise that for this year's National Championships, for the first time in Australia, live competition data, including upcoming fights will be available via the internet.

This capability, allows anyone access to real time tournament schedules and competition progression information whether you are at the venue, or anywhere with an internet connection.

Anyone interested in accessing the feeds simply need to visit http://35.197.188.25 in their web browser. The website and service will go live on Saturday 9th of June before the competition begins and will remain active until the close of play Monday 11th. PLEASE NOTE: For technical reasons, this service will not be used for the Masters, Kyu, Special Needs & Kata competitions.

The link provides useful hints on how to use it.

How do I use it guide?

When connecting to our competition server you will be presented with 5 screens like this:

This is the Contest order application. Tapping or clicking on this screen gives you information about the upcoming contest order.

- Use the number key 1-5 to select the number of mats to display
- Use the top row keyboard keys to select the mat to start with
  - 'Q'=Mat 1,'W'=Mat 2,'E'=Mat 3,'R'=Mat 4,'T'=Mat 5
- Use the up and down arrow keys to increase or decrease the number of fights per mat
- PLEASE NOTE: Due to a limitation on these devices, this screen is NOT available on iPhones or iPads, there is nothing we can do about this.

Screen 2:

This is the secondary contest order application, not used.

Screen 3:

This is the Coaching assistant platform. After clicking on this application, coaches can select a state and gender. This will produce a list of all upcoming matches on all mats featuring players from that state of that gender. Useful for keeping track of when players need coaches on the mat.
